Purpose

This document presents the findings regarding the tests that were carried out on the "B-FRESH" application.

Application Overview

The "B-FRESH" application is intended for the Israeli audience and is used to order from the chain's products, which include drinks and healthy meals. Through the application, you can choose the drinks or meals, customize them, choose the way of receiving the order (pickup or delivery), and pay for the order. You can also search for certain branches and sign up for the application.

Testing Scope

The tests were performed on almost all the functions of the application. They included mainly functional tests but also included interface, GUI, usability, performance, compatibility, security, accessibility, survival & recovery, internationalization & localization, installation, and notification tests. The tests were carried out in a division over eight main modules: login/signup, personal zone, main menu, branches, pickup/delivery, new order (menu), order finishing, and general.

Metrics

Test Cases Status

These metrics present the number of planned test cases, divided into passed tests, failed tests, and tests that were not run. Most of the test cases were passed.

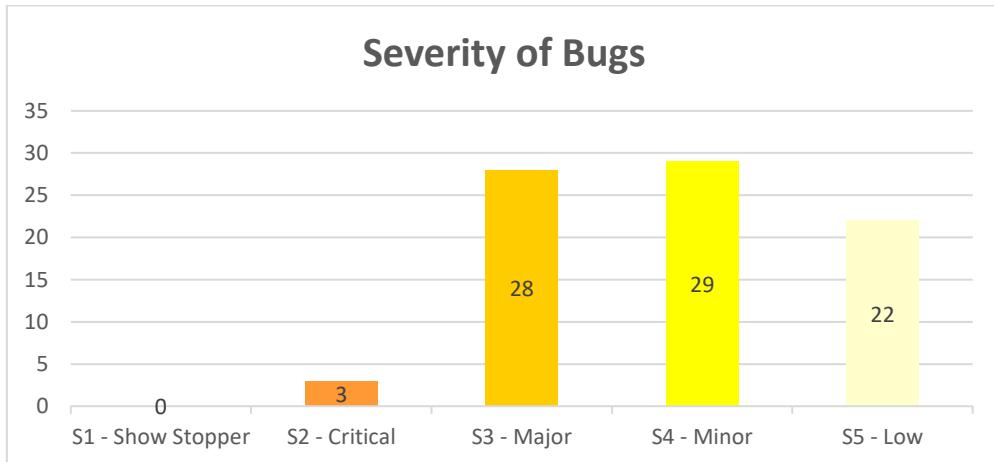

Passed	Failed	Not Run	Total
367	82	14	463

Severity of Bugs

This "clustered column" chart presents the number of bugs that were found, in division to severity level: low, minor, major, critical, and show-topper. Most bugs were classified as minor severity, followed by major, low, and critical. Show-stopper bugs were not found.

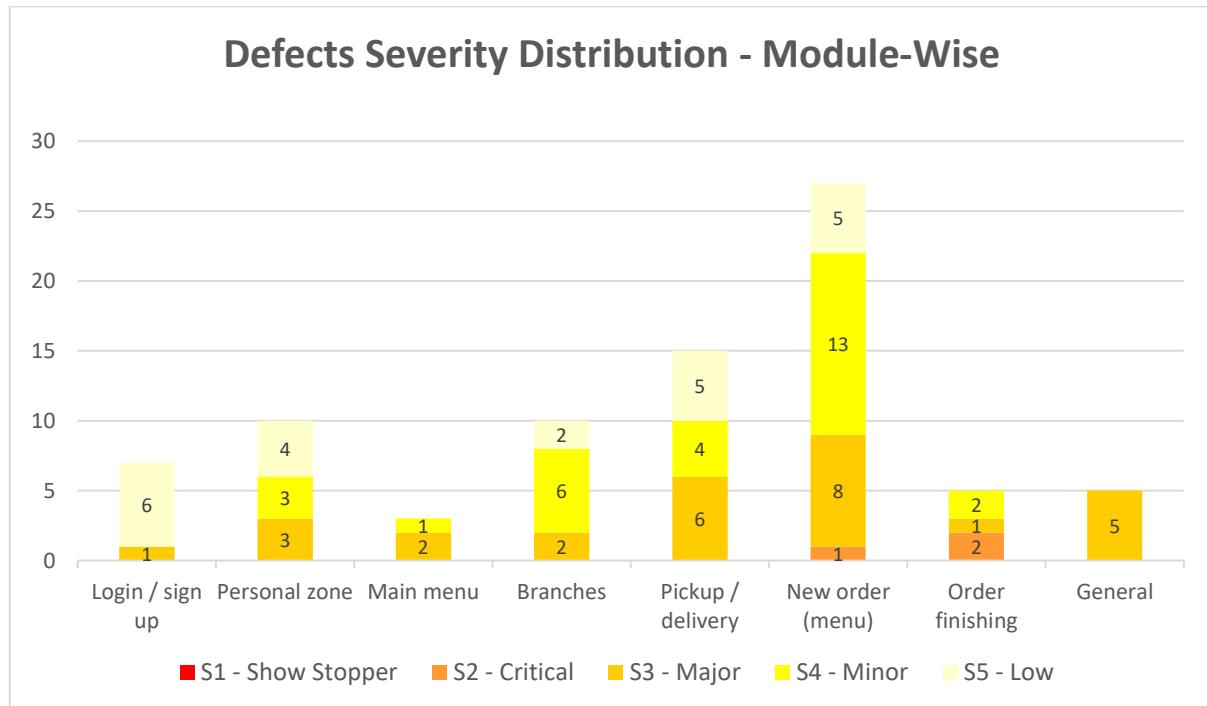

S1 - Show Stopper	S2 - Critical	S3 - Major	S4 - Minor	S5 - Low	Total
0	3	28	29	22	82

Defects Severity Distribution – Module-Wise

The table and column chart below present the severity distribution of the bugs in each main module of the application. The critical bugs were found in the "New order (menu)" and the "Order finishing" areas.

Module/Severity	S1 - Show Stopper	S2 - Critical	S3 - Major	S4 - Minor	S5 - Low	Total
Login/sign up	0	0	1	0	6	7
Personal zone	0	0	3	3	4	10
Main menu	0	0	2	1	0	3
Branches	0	0	2	6	2	10
Pickup/delivery	0	0	6	4	5	15
New order (menu)	0	1	8	13	5	27
Order finishing	0	2	1	2	0	5
General	0	0	5	0	0	5
Total	0	3	28	29	22	82

Recommendations

1. The app should work more smoothly.
2. After minimizing the app and returning to it, the app should be opened on the previous page and not fail to be loaded.
3. Clicking the phone back button should lead to the previous page and not close the app.
4. Clicking on the app back button should lead to the previous page and not to the home page.
5. All the pages on the app should be available in English, and not go wrong in terms of visibility when changing the language from Hebrew to English.
6. When changing the language to English from the "Finish order" screen, the drinks order should not be reset.
7. After switching language, when entering another screen, the app should stay in the language that was changed and not return to the previous language.
8. In the branch's pages, the map (Google) that navigates to the branch should work properly.
9. There should be more cities in Israel to which there is delivery.
10. There should be uniformity in content and visibility between the drinks' menu and the "new order" area.
11. The drinks' descriptions that appear on the menu should appear also on the drinks pages themselves.
12. The accessibility statement should also refer to the app and not to the website only.

Conclusion

Following the various tests done on the "B-FRESH" application, 82 bugs were found. Most of them have a degree of severity between minor and major, and three of them are critical. Overall, the application has a user-friendly design, but it is not very friendly to use and doesn't work smoothly. In addition, about half of the pages are not available in English, and there are very few cities to which there is delivery. Considering this, I would not recommend releasing the app.

Attachments:

The screenshots illustrate a user interface inconsistency regarding the design of frames around input fields. In the first screenshot, the 'Next' button is enclosed in a square frame, while the 'Check' button below it is enclosed in a rounded frame. In the second screenshot, both the 'Next' button and the 'Check' button are enclosed in rounded frames. Red arrows point from labels to the respective buttons in each screenshot.

Square frame: Points to the 'Next' button in the first screenshot.
